are not recommended as a remedy "for all the ills that flesh is heir to," but in affection of the Liver, and in all bilious Complaints, Dyspepsia, and Sick Headache, or diseases of that character, they stand without a rival.

ACUE AND FEVER.

No better cathartic can be used preparatory to, or after taking quinine. As a simple purgative they are unequalled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar-coated. Each box has a red-wax seal on the lid, with the impression, McLANE'S LIVER PILLS. Each wrapper bears the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS.

Insist upon having the genuine Dr. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by FLEMING BROS., Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

WEDNESDAY.....JUNE 2, 1880.

Blaine will be the nominee.

Can you guess the winner?

The unit rule ought not to prevail.

Blaine's show is as good as anybody's.

Let's fire a thousand guns if Blaine wins.

Senator Jones is acting the part of Peace-maker.

A long pull, a strong pull, and a pull altogether for Blaine.

May we be struck with a feather if Sherman bags the game.

Grasshoppers have appeared at the lower end of Paradise Valley.

Kearney has departed for Chicago to attend the Rag-Baby Convention.

Chicago has an additional excitement—the Woman's Suffrage Association meeting.

Many members predict that Congress will remain in session until the Fourth of July.

The Enterprise shows improvement in its first issue under Fred Hart. May he keep up his luck.

Judge Niles Searles, of Nevada City, wants to be the Democratic candidate for Congress in Page's district.

The California Delegation to Chicago denounced Gorham as misrepresenting their State in his position on the National Committee.

There will be no Republican opposition in Georgia to the re-election of Alexander H. Stephens. In all the other districts in the State Republican candidates will be run.

Denis Kearney, when released from jail, made a speech on the Sandlot, in which he said he was going to take up the agitation where he left off. And he did. He requested each person in the audience to bring four bits to the next meeting, toward a purse to pay his fare to the Greenback Convention.

The Free Press contains a detailed description of the recent rich discoveries in the Noonday and North Noonday mines on the 512 level. A large body of ore rich in silver and gold has been opened. It is regarded by leading mining men as the most important development since the rich discovery in Bodie.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company has commenced suits in the Superior Court of Tulare county against 110 Mussel Slough settlers on the company's land, each suit being for $5,000 back rents and profits and $5,000 damages for unlawful holding over. No processes have yet been served.

It takes a big pile of money to pay the officers on the retired list of the U. S. Army, there being some four hundred of them in all. The annual pay of a retired Major General is $5,625; Brigadier General $4,125; Colonels, $3,375; Lieutenant-Colonels, $3,060; Majors, $2,625; Captains, $2,100; First Lieutenants, $1,237 50 to $1,575; Second Lieutenants, $1,050 to $1,470; Chaplains, $1,455 to $1,890.

GATHERED FRAGMENTS.

A citizen of Plymouth, Ind., fired six shots at a supposed burglar, and then his wife called out: "See here, Sam, if you don't stop shooting at me you'll have the house full of neighbors."

A New Jersey colored man, whose wife had left him, said: "She would come back if I frowed her some sugar; but I ain't frown' no sugar, do you hear?"

The production of rubber goods in the United States amounts to $20,000,000 a year, and uses up 36,000,000 pounds of gum. New England has about two-thirds of the whole business.

"Wine is a mocker," remarked the dragoon, jocosely, as he filled old Swallow's regular prescription. "Worse than that," replied the old man, "the last bottle of Sherry I brought from you was a solemn mockery."

It is stated that the inhabitants of London at the present time "consume annually 2,000,000 quarters of wheat, 400,000 oxen, 1,500,000 sheep, 130,000 calves, 250,000 pigs, 8,000,000 head of poultry and game, and 40,000,000 pounds of ham."

If a Connecticut boy has good luck in crawling under the canvas, he will give one-half of the fifty cents thus saved to the heathen. Religion has a strong hold on even the youth of the Nutmeg State.

A London physician cured a lady of deafness by taking her into the Cathedral tower near one of the bells, as the hammer fell upon it. The force of the sound fractured the obstruction to the ear.

"Rephaniah," said his wife with a chilling severity, "I saw you coming out of a saloon this afternoon." "Well, my darling," replied the heartless man, "you wouldn't have your husband stay in a saloon all day, would you?"

IN CHICAGO TO-DAY.

The Republican National Convention of 1880 begins its labors to-day, and hundreds of thousands of good men are anxiously awaiting the result, hoping that the man selected for standard bearer will be one around whom all members of the party can rally with an enthusiasm unequalled in the history of the party. The best interests of this country demand the election of the Republican nominee for President. Evidences multiply daily to convince the intelligent observer that a Republican President in 1880 is an absolute necessity. The two great parties are hopelessly divided not only upon the issues of the past, but upon the great and grave questions of the present, and those likely to arise in the immediate future. The success of the Republican party means peace and prosperity for the nation; the success of the Democratic party means a revival of dead issues, the opening up of old wounds, the depletion of the national treasury for vicious claims, a stumbling block to the continuation of specie payments, the trampling down of civil and political rights of a certain class of citizens, the subversion of the judiciary to political partisanship, and in a general way the loss of everything good which has been secured to this country in the past twenty years. The election of 1880 is the most important since 1860, and the people should see to it that the man nominated at Chicago is elected, and by such an overwhelming majority as to place the question beyond reach of any interference by Congress. Let us hope, however, that the nominee of the Republican party will be a worthy representative of the great principles for which we contend, and that his own character will be the only platform necessary. We sincerely hope that the magnetic Blaine will be chosen, but should some other be selected, we shall accept the situation, consoling ourselves with the thought that he and his friends will cheerfully submit to the decision of the National Convention.

THE OUTLOOK.

The latest telegrams from Chicago indicate that the unit rule will be defeated in the Convention, and with the defeat of the unit rule follows Grant. We have studied the tables carefully, and believe that with Grant out of the way, Blaine will receive the nomination, calculating all the time that he is the first choice of about fifty of the New York and Pennsylvania delegates, and second choice of sufficient Grant delegates, to give him the requisite majority. We cannot believe it possible that Sherman has any show, and we have never entertained the belief that the "dark horse" would come to the front. We may be mistaken, but hope not.

UNIT RULE QUESTION.

At a meeting of the National Committee on Monday evening the following resolution was offered:

Resolved, That this committee recognizes the right of each delegate in a Republican National Convention freely to cast and to have counted his individual vote therein, according to his own sentiments, and if he so decides against any unit rule or other instructions, passed by a State Convention, which right was conceded without dissent and was exercised in the Conventions of 1860 and 1868, and was, after a full debate affirmed by the Convention of 1877 and has thus become a part of the law of Republican Conventions, and until reversed by a Convention itself, must remain a governing principle.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS.

The License Proposition Contested in New York.

The New York Commercial Bulletin thinks that the course of the Pacific coast merchants who are urging the licensing of commercial travelers is narrow and shortsighted. The whole thing is the incarnation of selfishness and provincialism, and is unworthy the free air and the freedom of the Pacific.

It savors of the narrow spirit of the Louisiana and Carolina sugar and rice planters in opposing California's demand for the Sandwich Islands Reciprocity Treaty.

California having been singularly benefited by freedom of trade, or in other words, by healthful competition, ought not now to be putting herself in a false position with reference to Eastern commercial travelers, whose function it is to supply her people with good at the lowest price. How would San Francisco like it if New York were to impose, say, a prohibitory tax upon every Californian who comes here to sell Pacific coast mines in competition with our Stock Exchange? A legitimate mode of meeting this Eastern competition would be the encouragement of such home manufactures in California as Atlantic States cannot produce so thankful.

Notice of appeal to the Supreme Court has been filed from an order of the Superior Court sustaining the demurrer from the complaint and dismissing the proceedings instituted to remove Mayor Kalloch from his office.

PHIL. SHERIDAN'S PERIL.

A Reminiscence by General (Senator) Gordon of the Battle of the Appomattox.

I had a message from General Lee telling me a flag of truce was in existence, leaving it to my discretion as to what course to pursue. My men were still pushing their way on. I sent at once to hear from General Longstreet, feeling that if he was marching toward me we might still out through and carry the army forward. I learned that he was about two miles off with his men faced just opposite from mine, fighting for his life. I thus saw that the case was hopeless. The further each of us drove the enemy the further we drifted apart and the more exposed we left: our wagon trains and artillery, which were parked between us. Every time either of us broke only opened the gap the wider. I saw plainly that the Federal would soon rush in between us and then there would have been no army. I therefore determined to send a flag of truce. I called Major Hunter, of my staff, to me and told him that I wanted him to carry a flag of truce forward. He replied:

"General, I have no flag of truce." I told him to get one. He replied:

"General, we have no flag of truce in our command."

Then I said: "Then get your handkerchief, put it on a stick and go forward."

"I have no handkerchief, General."

"The borrow one and go forward with it."

He tried and reported to me that there was no handkerchief in my staff.

"Then, Major, use your shirt."

"You see, General, that we all have on flannel shirts."

At last, I believe, we found a man who had a white shirt. He gave it to us and I tore off the back and tail, and rigging this to a stick, Major Hunter went out toward the enemy's lines. I instructed him to simply say to General Sheridan that General Lee had written to me that a flag of truce had been sent from his and Grant's headquarters, and that he could act as he thought best on that information. In a few moments he came back with Major—of Sheridan's staff. The officer said:

"General Sheridan requested me to present his compliments to you and to demand the unconditional surrender of your army."

"Major, you will please return my compliments to General Sheridan and say that I will not surrender."

"But General, he will annihilate you."

"I am perfectly well aware of my situation. I simply give General Sheridan some information on which he may or may not desire to act."

He went back to his lines and in a short time General Sheridan came galloping forward on an immense horse and attended by a very large staff. Just here an incident occurred that caused me a serious ending. As General Sheridan was approaching I noticed one of my sharpshooters drawing his rifle down upon him. I at once called to him, "Put down your gun, sir; this is a flag of truce!" But he never raised it. He simply settled it to his shoulder and was drawing a bead on Sheridan when I leaned forward and jerked his gun. He struggled with me, but I finally raised it. I then loosened it, and he started to aim again. I caught it again, when he turned his stern white face, all broken with grief and streaming with tears, up to me and said, "Well General, here let him keep on his own side!" The fighting had continued up to this point. Indeed, after the flag of truce, a segment of my men, who had been fighting their way through toward where we were, and who did not know of the flag of truce, fled into some of Sheridan's cavalry. This was specially stopped, however. I showed General Sheridan General Lee's note, and he determined to await events. He dismounted and I did the same. Then, for the first time, the men seemed to understand what it all meant. And then the poor fellows broke down. The men cried like children. Worn, starved and bleeding as they were, they had either died than have surrendered. A few words from me they would have buried themselves on the enemy, and have cut their way through or have fallen to a man with their guns in their hands. But I could not permit it. The great drama has been played to its end. —[Philadelphia Times.]

RAILROAD FOR BELLEVILLE.

[Austin Herald.]

As this is the season for railroad projects, the Herald begs leave to offer a suggestion to persons interested in railroad building—and money making. What do you think of the proposition to build a narrow-gauge from Candelaria to Belleville? We have for some time thought of this matter, and often wondered that the Northern Belle Company did not take the subject under consideration and build this road for their own use and benefit. The distance from Candelaria to Belleville is eight miles. The route is almost as level as a floor, and consequently no grading to speak of having to be done, is ready to receive the ties and rails with but little work. The cost of building and equipping eight miles would not exceed in the aggregate $10,000 per mile, or $80,000 for the whole distance. The Northern Belle Company are now paying $3 per ton for transporting ore from their mine in Candelaria to the mills at Belleville. The number of tons crushed daily is 120, making the cost of transportation amount to $360 per month, $10,800 per year, $129,600. We have it from good authority that the water supply of the Belle Company's water works is sufficient to run two more twenty-stamp mills. J. S. Longbaugh has a spring from which a supply could be obtained sufficient to run a mill. There are two other springs in close proximity to Belleville, either one of which would furnish water enough for a mill. There is every probability that should the mines of Columbus District prove as good as expected, mills will be put up in Belleville to work the ore. With four more mills in Belleville the increased demand for transportation facilities would be simply wonderful. At least 300 tons of ore per day would be shipped from the mines to the mills. One could be hauled over the narrow-gauge for $1 per ton, at which figure the road would pay for itself in less than a year, and mines would save $2 on every ton crushed. What do you think of the project? We don't charge anything for the information, but should some enterprising individual build the road and make his fortune, we won't object to a donation of a few thousand.

The liabilities of M. P. Freeman, the Elko banker who recently failed, amount to $99,000, of which $63,000 is due in the county and $36,000 to the Bank of California.

Latest From Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 1.—The National Committee reconvened at 2:30 p. m. and adjourned after a two hours' session. A member of the Committee says that the conclusions reached were that Cameron should remain chairman of the Committee; that the regular delegations from Louisiana, Kansas, Utah and Illinois should be admitted to the temporary organization; that contests in these States be submitted to the Committee on Credentials, and that the unit rule should be enforced or not at the pleasure of the convention; that Conkling, Logan and Cameron have pledged themselves to interfere in no way in regard to the action of the convention respecting the unit rule. The Committee decided to distribute tickets at half past 9 a. m. to-morrow.

While it is by no means certain yet that Blaine will be nominated, the indications are that he is gaining much positive strength hourly. His danger lies in the obstinate adherence of the Sherman, Edmunds and Washburne men to their respective favorites. This might be fatal to Blaine if the ultra-Grant men can succeed in so dividing and distributing their forces among the other candidates as to prevent a majority for Blaine until the convention is exhausted by numerous ballots. This game is fully anticipated by Blaine's friends, who are discreetly, but not defiantly, firm in tone and conciliatory in manner. They profess to be confident that the popular sentiment for their favorite, as admitted by numerous delegates who came here pledged to other candidates, will enable them to reverse the practice of killing the strongest candidate for the sake of some weak one.

It is known that at least two additional New York delegates will join the 19 protestants against Grant, and another, making 22 in all, is expected to join them in the crucial moment. The majority are determined to get a view of the roll of members and see that claimants for seats are not adverse to the interests of the opposing candidates. As they are now in possession of the ball they feel able to command the situation.

It having been announced that Massachusetts would cast twenty votes on the first ballot for Sherman (that being the Edmunds strength), Judge Hoar was seen as to the correctness of the statement. He said they would give their first vote to Edmunds, as instructed, and after that to Sherman.

The Blaine vote in the Ohio delegation numbers nine, and Mack, of the Sandusky Register, says they will vote on the first ballot for Blaine.

The funeral of the late Robert Leeper will take place from the Methodist Church this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Friends and acquaintances are invited to attend.

A. L. Hurd has sold out his draying business, and will resume his former position of section boss on the C. P.

Home Industry.

Through the kindness of the management at the flouring mills at this place, we are enabled to give our readers some idea of the extent of the enterprise. As the proprietors carry on their business in a quiet and unassuming way, few people have any idea of the vast amount of grain handled and manufactured into flour and feed. But happening to be present when the figures of the last month's business were made up, we are allowed to say that during the month of May alone the mill company imported and received into the mill, one million four hundred and twenty-nine thousand seven hundred and forty-nine pounds of grain as follows:

Barley.....1,089,768
Wheat.....39,981

Total.....1,429,749

In this connection it is of interest to note the source from which this grain is obtained, and it appears that most of it or in fact nearly all, come from over the mountains—thus:

From Cal. Barley.....1,089,768

From Cal. wheat.....273,160

From Honey Lake, wheat.....65,652

From Washoe county, wheat.....1,169

This is a poor showing for our farming interests at home although it must be recollected that nearly all the grain raised by our Washoe county farmers was marketed last Fall.

We are further informed that the freight paid on this grain, to say nothing of the first cost, was $15,736. We give these figures for the purpose of stimulating our home farmers who we think should raise all the grain necessary for home consumption and save this very heavy drain of money upon our local resources.

Here is over fifteen thousand dollars sent to California for freight alone, to say nothing of the amount necessary to pay first cost, which must certainly be as much more. So it will be perceived that this community is constantly sending large sums of money to California which we hope at some not very distant day to see kept at home.

The milling business by the present owners was begun just eight months ago and has been in successful operation every day since. As a manufacturing interest no one doubts it being a success.

The Bodie trade furnishes a large portion of the business of the concern.

Seven men are constantly employed in and about the mill at reasonable wages.

The Methodist Fair.

There was quite a large gathering at the Pavilion last evening. The tables were tastefully arranged and abundantly patronized. A complete supper was presided over by Mrs. Ashcraft, Mrs. Tilton and Miss Stiner. Cool lemonade was dispensed by Miss Leona Raynor and Miss Stiner. The flower stand was guarded by the Misses Loomis. The ice cream stand Mrs. Hunter and Mrs. Schwader attended to. Mrs. Schooling and Mrs. Charlie Jones to the strawberries and cream. A unique postoffice built of large flags and decorated with evergreens, contained many fair postmistresses, among whom we recognized Miss Tilton, Miss Lora Cross and Miss Jennie Hill. The beautiful collection of fancy work received much admiration, the articles being sold by Mr. McElveen and assistants. The musical and literary entertainment was given according to programme, and proved to be exceedingly interesting. If the succeeding nights are as pleasant and successful as this was, all the good church folks may well rejoice. The following is the programme for this evening:

Duet.....Flora McKey and Jessie Finlaysen.
Reading.....Miss Edna M. N. Dury
Duet.....Misses Leona
Reading.....Mrs. O. S. Sessions
Solo.....Miss Jessie Jamison
Reading.....Miss Villeneuve
Trio.....Mrs. Chapin, Mrs. Hillard, Mr. Faucher (B. Barnett, pianist.)

The New Store.

Kunst & Jones are now ready for business in their new store, and have one of the largest and best stocks of general merchandise in the State. It is all new, and includes everything in that line, but only a small portion are named in their new advertisement. They advertise full weights and reasonable prices, and purchasers can rely on square treatment. Orders from the country will be promptly attended to. All goods will be delivered free of charge.

Hot Weather.

We are having regular summer weather, seemingly have skipped over what is usually called the Spring season. We had about six months of Winter, and the indications are that the other six of the year will be Summer. Yesterday the weather was not only warm, but hot, with a tendency toward the red.

On Ben.

One of Wells, Fargo's messengers got off a good one on Ben Butler the other night. Ben and party saw a lot of silver bullion in the car and asked what it was. "That's what they make spoons out of," says the messenger.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Goss was defeated by Ryan in 87 rounds. The fight lasted one hour and forty minutes.

The New York World asserts that Mr. Tilden and Speaker Randall have quarreled, and that the latter will seek the Cincinnati nomination for himself.

The Pacific coast delegates, including Washington and Wyoming Territories, have consolidated for united action on the Chinese question. They still stand solid for Blaine, and have strong hopes of his nomination.

Burkhardt, who reported the Ute depredations in the North Park, and the murder of Carr and Dow, his partners, by redskins, has disappeared from Cheyenne. He is suspected of having committed the murders and starting the story to conceal his crime. Prospectors fail to discover a sign of Indians in the Nor' Park or vicinity.

Captain Edward R. Warsaw, well known in years past as a commander in the service of the Pacific Mail, and later as a prominent stock operator committed suicide in San Francisco yesterday morning by shooting himself in the head. He was a native of Vermont, aged fifty-three years. He had been suffering from heart disease for a long time past, and is supposed to have been recently out of his mind.

The officers and members of the Reno Reform Club are hereby earnestly requested to meet at their hall, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late brother, Robert Leeper. Sojourning brothers, and members of other temperance organizations are respectfully invited to join with us in paying the last salute of respect to our deceased brother. By order of the President.

A Woman Taking the Census.

In many parts of the country, says the New Haven Register, women will be appointed as census enumerators, with the probable result something like this:

Neatly dressed woman of an uncertain age, with big book under her arm and pen in hand, rings the door bell. Young lady appears at the door.

Census enumerator—"Good morning, lovely morning. I'm taking the census. You were born?"

Young lady—"Yes, I am."

"You name, please. What a pretty dust cap you have on. Can I get the pattern? It's just like the one the lady in the next house has. Let's see—your name?"

"I haven't the pattern. Don't you get awful tired walking around taking the census?"

"Oh, yes, it's wearisome, but I pick up a great deal of information. How nice your dinner smells cooking. Plum pudding?"

"No; I haven't plum pudding to-day. I'm looking for a new recipe."

"I've got one that I took down from a lady's cook book across the way. Are you married?"

"No. Want an invitation to the wedding, don't you? It will be a long time before you get it. You can keep your plum pudding recipe, thank you."

"I should think 'twould be some time. Have you children? O, of course, I forgot. This hall carpet is just the pattern of Aunt Prudy's. She's had it more than twenty years. How many are there in the family?"

"If this hall carpet don't suit you, you can get off of it and go about your censusing."

"Well, you're an impudent jade, anyhow. You haven't told me when you were born, or what's your name, or whether you expect to get married, and there's ten dollars' fine for not answering census taker's questions, and if I were you I wouldn't be seen at the door in such a shabby morning dress, so there!"

Oh, hateful thing! You can go away. I'll pay the ten dollars just to get rid of you, and smile in doing it. It's none of your business, nor the census's either. No, it isn't. You can keep your pattern and your plum pudding, and your saucy, impudent questions to yourself—I—I—I."

"Good morning. I must be getting on. I haven't done but three families all the afternoon," and an energetic bang at the door just missed catching a foot of her trailing dress skirts.

The fruit crop in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio has not been injured by the frost, and an abundant yield is confidently expected. The census in many instances promises a larger yield than has been known for several years.

"I know a victim to tobacco," said a lecturer, "who hasn't tasted food for thirty years." "How do you know he hasn't?" asked an auditor. "Because tobacco killed him in 1850," was the reply.

Call Early And Secure Bargains!

Now is the time to buy all kinds of dry and fancy goods, domestics, carpets, etc., at your own prices, as we must be rid of business by July 12th, 1880. This is no sham. A Hall's safe and store flat to be sold cheap.
